General Information

As these tours take place in public facilities and on sidewalks, they are fully accessible to visitors who use wheelchairs or mobility devices. Our staff has reviewed the tour route for any obstructions or inaccessible pathways, and has described our findings below. Please be advised that this tour involves up to 60 minutes of walking and standing with minimal opportunities to sit down.

New Repertory Theatre is working with Ellice Patterson as an Accessibility Consultant on this production.

The actor will use a microphone so as to be well-heard by all during the outdoor experience. He will also wear a clear mask or face shield so that visitors will still have the opportunity to read lips.

The total route mileage is 0.5 miles.

Each stop on the route has benches close by should visitors need to briefly rest.

Any role play involved in the tour is completely voluntary.

Tour Description

Visitors who use wheelchairs or mobility devices should please be aware of the following:

1st Stop: Watertown Square Delta

In order to reach the first stop on the route, the group will need to cross a short crosswalk. There is grass grounding at this stop, but sidewalks are nearby for those who prefer to stay on concrete.

2nd Stop: Lenox's Barbershop Site

To reach the second stop, the group will need to cross two short crosswalks from the Watertown Square Delta to the square in front of the Watertown Savings Bank.

3rd Stop: Watertown Free Public Library

There is brick grounding in front of the library.

4th Stop: Saltonstall Park and the Civil War Monument

There is gravel around the Civil War monument. A sidewalk to the right of the monument serves as a safe accessibility entrance. As this stop concludes the tour, patrons can be picked up from a one-way side street to the right of the monument.

Regular Print, Large Print, and Braille Programs

To abide by our health & safety guidelines and keep this performance contact-free, we are unfortunately unable to hand out printed programs for the Charles W. Lenox experience.
